after due regard is had to to the parties' means, the minor's néeds and the parties' style and standard of living;

4. Condemn defendant to pay plaintiff such amount of maintenance for the néeds of the said minor, … omissis … as is so liquidated;

5. Declare that the payments made by the defendant since the 16th August 2016 being the date of birth of the said minor … omissis … on account of the maintenance of the said minor, was, regard being had to the néeds of the said minor and the means of the parties, inadequate and ought to have been more and that there is therefore cause for the defendant to pay or refund unto the plaintiff a sum which is equivalent to the arrears of maintenance which he should have paid but did not as is here set out;

6. By reference to the expense incurred by the plaintiff for the needs of the minor child, the means of the parties during the relevant times, the payments that the defendant should have effected and the payments defendant actually effected to plaintiff for the maintenance of the said minor child, liquidates the arrears of maintenance from the 16th August, 2016, being the date of birth of the said minor … omissis … until such date as the judgement on the previous demands become res judicata or other date fixed by the court, calculated at such rate as is established and applied by the Court for this purposes, payable by the said defendant unto the said plaintiff, in order to reimburse the said plaintiff for the payments made by her that should have been paid by him in parte or in toto;

7. Condemn the said defendant to pay to the plaintiff the sum so established and liquidated by this court in arrears of maintenance, under the modalities which shall be established in this regard from the same Court and with an increase in maintenance which is to be ordered as is requested in paragraph number 4.

With costs, including those related to mediation, against the said defendant who is as of now summoned for reference to his oath.
